There may be times when you don't want to change your source file, but you want to share a different version with others. The Organize Pages toolkit offers multiple options to rearrange your PDF document without changing the source file by extracting, deleting or inserting pages and turning or replacing pages. Extract pages; you can pull pages of larger documents by extracting them as a group or as separate files by checking extraction pages as separate file box. You can choose to delete or keep the pages extracted in the source document. Enter pages: you can insert a blank page or a page from another document easily. Select a file in an existing document, in the transfer area, on your scanner or even on a web page. You can also add a blank page where white space is required. Start with an open document or go to tools> Organize pages. Choose Insert. Choose from the file, in the transfer area, enter the scanner, the web page or the blank page. Choose the location to enter the new page (before or after existing content). Set the page number first, last or specific). Click OK. Delete pages: Just as there are many reasons to insert pages, there are many reasons to delete pages. Removal of a page is as simple as selecting it and pressing Delete. Turn the pages: you may need to rotate the pages in your PDF document. Go to tools> Organize pages. Select a page, or press and hold the SHIFT press and click to select multiple pages and click the Gire icon clockwise or counter-clockwise. Replace pages: Replace a single page or a variety of pages. Go to tools> Organize pages. Choose to replace from the top menu. Choose yourSelect the original (s) page(s) you want to replace. Set the replacement page range. Click OK.
